First Annual National Fossil Day

This event will be held Wednesday, October 13 from 1:30-4:00 in the Geology Museum (Science 110), hosted by the School of Earth Sciences, Ohio State Lima campus. Activities will include a state fossil game (with prizes awarded to the winners, including a top prize of a 450-million year old trilobite) and free identification of fossils, plus everyone who attends will receive a free 370-million year old fossil brachiopod.

The Writing Center will be offering two workshops

They will be discussing avoiding plagiarism and academic misconduct. They also will hand out attendance slips to students who might receive extra credit for attending.

Presented By: Student Tutors from the OSU-Lima Writing Center

Presentation on Avoiding Plagiarism and Academic Misconduct

Wednesday, October 13, 12:30-1:15, Galvin 118

Thursday, October 14, 12:30-1:15, Galvin 118

The beginning part of the session will be casual and conversational, with the tutors engaging their fellow students in games and scenarios to explore together what is and is not acceptable in college communities. The focus will be on incorporating outside sources into academic essays and homework assignments, but other issues involving academic misconduct will also be discussed. Candy prizes will be awarded. The second half of the presentation will be a more formal introduction to MLA and APA documentation styles, and how students can make certain to document their sources correctly.

Keep these dates open for P.A.L.S. events!

Srividya Angara , Kuchipudi dancer

Monday, October 18th, 12:30, Martha W. Farmer Theatre for the Performing Arts. Please join us for the performance of Srividya Angara, a Kuchipudi dancer. Kuchipudi is a Classical dance from the South Indian state of Andhra Pradesh. This traditional dance form is known for its graceful movements, strong narrative, and dramatic character. You can expect to see colorful ornamental costumes, graceful, yet dramatic dancing, accompanied by traditional Indian music.

Sonos, A Cappella Vocal Group

Monday, October 25th, 12:30, Martha W. Farmer Theatre for the Performing Arts. Sonos will make their debut appearance on our campus this fall. This completely new a cappella vocal group originates from the southern California college scene. They completely reinvent a 21st-century songbook with bold interpretations of vital indie artists like Rufus Wainwright, Imogen Heap, and Bon Iver. The group's diverse repertoire also extends to the iconic mainstream with their radical trip-hop rendition of the Jackson 5's, "I Want You Back," for example. Sonos' approach has already won them great popularity nationwide.

OSU Lima Counseling Services

Ohio State Lima will provide free mental health services for OSU students through the Lima Counseling and Consultation Services offices. If you would like to schedule an appointment, please contact one of our therapists.

Samantha Haudenschield, Psy.D. Cook Hall, Room 202 419-995-8272

Hours: Monday and Wednesday 9:00 AM-6:00 PM; evening appointments available.

Gail Nelson, BSSW, LSW Ag Bldg., Room 100K 419-995-8696

Hours: Monday and Tuesday 1:30-4:30 PM and Friday 7:30-4:30

Some of the issues that may be addressed include: Home-sickness, struggles with career choices, trouble in relationships, thoughts of suicide, violence, drugs and alcohol, pregnancy, death in family, financial pressures, gender identity, and mental illness. Some of these issues can be quickly addressed with mini-mal follow-up required, while others will many times involve longer-term counseling combined with additional services to assist the student. If additional services are needed, students will be referred to local mental health agencies for further assistance.
